Felerski, Dean of Int Umps, Retires After 13 Campaigns

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Max Felerski of Buffalo ended a 13-year career as an International League umpire when he announced his resignation following the Montreal-Buffalo double-header here, July 5.

Felerski, dean of the loop's umpiring staff, said he had tendered his resignation to League President Frank Shaughnessy several days earlier, but had continued through the holiday games at the prey's request.

Max was a central figure last season in a rhubarb involving Jack Tighe, who was manager of the Buffalo team. Tighe was absolved on that occasion after he and several Bison players underwent lie detector tests.

Elsewhere on the I.L. umpiring front, Joe Linsalata returned to action after being hospitalized in Montreal for several days. However, Henry Tatler has been sidelined for an indefinite period with a case of ulcers.
